MAY 17 - 20, ROTTERDAM - THE NETHERLANDS

15th INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON
DIGESTIVE PHYSIOLOGY OF PIGS

Stay informed - Please visit the symposium website and leave your contact details for updates on the 15th International Symposium on Digestive Physiology of Pigs.

www.DPP2022.com

Welcome in Rotterdam!

On behalf of the Organizing Committee, we are excited to announce the 15th International Symposium on Digestive Physiology of Pigs (DPP2022) that will be held in Rotterdam, The Netherlands, from May 17 to 20, 2022. Previous conferences have been held every third year, in France, Denmark, Poland, The Netherlands, Germany, France, Sweden, Canada, Denmark, Spain, USA and Poland and in 2018 in Australia. This symposium was originally planned in 2021 but due to the worldwide Covid-19 pandemic it has been postponed to 2022. This symposium is currently considered the most important global scientific event in the fields of pig nutrition and gut physiology, covering endocrinology, immunology, microbiology and health, as well as the use of the pig as a model for human digestive physiology.

Future pig production faces major challenges, related to availability of resources, climatic impact and human and animal health. We are strongly committed to bring together at DPP2022, science and industry in formal sessions and informal networks to learn from latest scientific developments, discuss their potential contribution to a sustainable future and promote academia-industry partnerships. This will not be possible without strong sponsorship. Our sponsorship program aims at maximizing the value for our sponsors in terms of exposure and interactions with industrial and academic partners.

We encourage you to participate in this great symposium on digestive physiology of pigs and we look forward to welcoming you to Rotterdam.

Why sponsor DPP 2022?

Industry partnership is at the heart of this event

For producers of feed, feed ingredients, and veterinary products, and for professional organisations of scientists, nutritionists, and pig producers, this is an opportunity to demonstrate your involvement in nutrition and physiology of pigs and your commitment to contribute to scientific developments for sustainable nutrition.

Involvement in DPP 2022 is all about building brand awareness

Our exhibition hall is positioned to capture maximum customer engagement during the tea & coffee breaks and poster viewing sessions. There are a range of opportunities to suit every budget, keeping your brand front of mind with delegates. Sponsors will also benefit from enhanced brand exposure on our DPP2022 website and app before, during and after the event.

Meet new contacts and strengthen key relationships

The symposium will give you the opportunity to network with a diverse audience of professionals in academia and in industry, with interests in digestive physiology, nutrition, feed formulation, feed additives, and pig production.

General information

Date

May 17 - 20, 2022

Target audience

The symposium is an opportunity to meet academic and industry researchers, university staff and students, nutritionists, and managers involved in technical sales, pig production and feed formulation from all over the world. We expect over 500 participants to join us and discuss about the latest developments in the field. We specifically encourage participation from areas in the world developing in this field of research. This symposium is a perfect opportunity to demonstrate your support and involvement in future developments in the field and to promote new and innovative technologies, products and services.

Venue

De Doelen International Conference Center Rotterdam

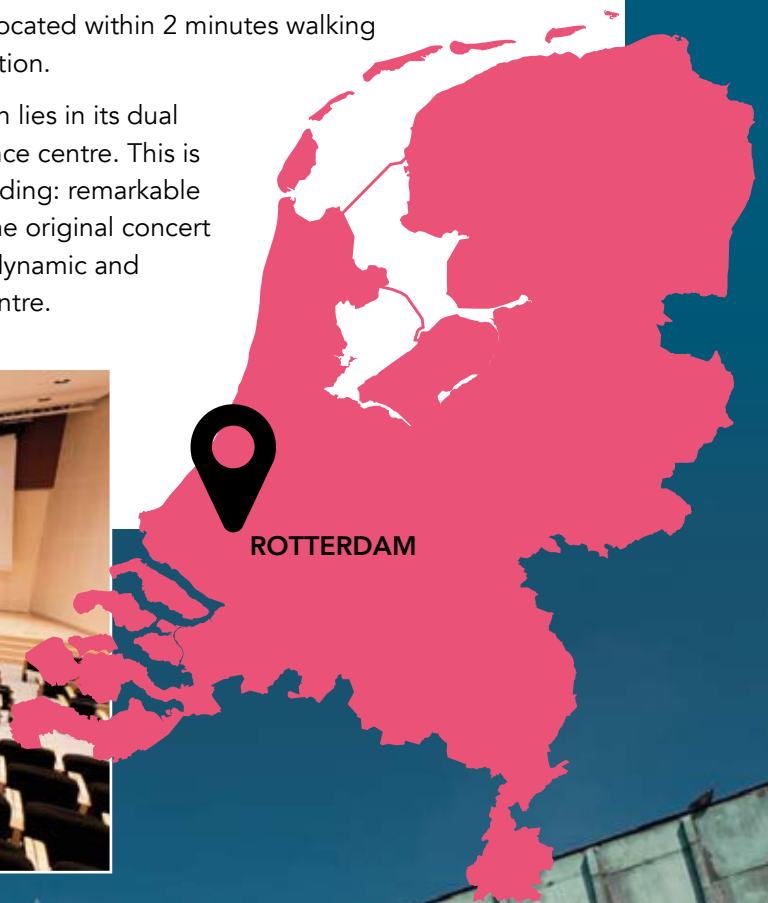

Schouwburgplein 50

Rotterdam

The Netherlands

Rotterdam is known for being a dynamic multi-ethnic city, its modern architecture and maritime history centred on Europe's largest seaport. The conference will be held in De Doelen, a city-center, state-of-the-art venue for conferences and concerts. De Doelen, Rotterdam, is located within 2 minutes walking distance from Rotterdam Central Station.

The exceptional appeal of De Doelen lies in its dual function as concert hall and conference centre. This is highlighted by the design of the building: remarkable 1960's functionalist architecture of the original concert hall beautifully contrasting with the dynamic and modern design of the conference centre.

Programme

What topics will be covered?

The overall theme "Science for Sustainable Nutrition" will be addressed in six sessions covering a wide range of provisional topics:

- Topic 1. Optimizing resource utilization for future feeds
- Topic 2. Dynamics of digestion and absorption
- Topic 3. Functionality of the intestinal microbiome
- Topic 4. Role of the gut in whole body functioning and health
- Topic 5. Models and methodologies
- Topic 6. Lessons from other species and disciplines

Recognised experts in these fields have been selected as plenary speakers and are currently being contacted.

What else will be happening at DPP2022?

In addition to the technical program there will be social functions that will encourage and foster networking opportunities.

Additional opportunities

Satellite symposium (Cost will depend on required arrangements)

Industry partners and academic consortia can present their latest research developments during the satellite symposia, organized on Tuesday May 17th, preceding the DPP2022 congress. The satellite symposia will take place in the conference centre as a joint effort between the organisations or companies hosting the satellites and the symposium committee.

Industry partners and academic consortia will be invited to express their interest in organising a satellite symposium through a call on the DPP2022 website. The Organising Committee will review the proposals and programme of each satellite, and decides on a maximum of 4 satellites to be organized.

The programme of each satellite symposium will be included in the symposium app. State of the art equipment and a team of dedicated technicians will be at your disposal. We can also arrange for your symposia to be filmed and edited at an additional cost. This is a unique opportunity to present and discuss new ideas, products or developments with a large numbers of international delegates active in the field of physiology and nutrition of pigs. Your company logo and website link will be carried on the symposium website. It is also an excellent opportunity for research consortia, e.g. EU-project, to disseminate and discuss results of their projects.

Please note: All prices quoted are exclusive of VAT which will be charged at the prevailing rate where required.

Please return the completed and signed order form to the Conference Secretariat:
